> A curious story in connection with Schneider's crime is told of the murdered wife to a colored fortune teller, an old woman living to a colored fortune teller, an old woman living in the northwestern part of the city. It is said by those who tell the story that the old woman told the murdered girl that there was great trouble in store for her; that two hearses would stand before her home at the same moment before a week should pass. Two hearses did stand before the poor girl's home before the week had passed, and one bore her body to the grave and the other that of her beloved brother.

THE COOL WAVE. Though a Little Overdue It Has Arrived at

To be sure, it was a long time coming—but today. It will be the livellest convention ever during the heat of the day. It is a fact that cool waves in the summer make their journeys very leisurely, totally ignoring time tables and contesting delegates.

It was rumored last night that the Burke conventions and other heat of the remaining and the rema often keeping the perspiring citizen fuming and fretting over its non-arrival. MR. WATSON SATISPIED.

Mr. Watson made a statement to the effect that he was satisfied with the investigation, as it had proved that his charges were true and that he did not intend to make the charge generally against the House, but only against individuals.

Although the present cool wave is a little overdue, the weather bureau cherishes the hope that it will "bide a wee wi' you." After figuring the matter over carefully the weather bureau is of the opinion that this cool wave did not come overland from the northwest, did not slip on a northeast breeze from the ocean, but that it came from above. It is thought that the atmosphera for some distance above the certh.

This is not construed to mean, however, that ing any wagers that the vertebral column of summer has suffered a permanent fracture. In the course of time the upper atmosphere is likely to again become heated, local conditions may be expected. COOL ALL OVER THE COUNTRY.

The cool weather exists all over the country today. Washington is being treated very fairly, and when a comparison is made with last week it may be said that the capital city is in great luck. At 11:30 today the thermometer registered only 80, which is about 15 degrees cooler than last Monday.

It is confidently predicted that it will grow cooler by tomorrow night, and there is nothing to indicate a startling change from that condition for a few days following.

The maximum reached at Washington vesterday was 88, at Boston it was 70, New York city 68, Philadelphia 80 and Cleveland and Chicago 76. Throughout Iowa and Nebraska it ranged in the early nineties, and in Idaho and Utah was 94. Yuma was 102.

The city today made visible show of the welcome change. People were refreshed and too and when a comparison is made with last week

The city today made visible show of the wel-come change. People were refreshed and too grateful for the change to be very cross. The horses moved with livelier step, quick to appre-ciate the difference. Business showed a revival and there was considerable shopping during the morning. A hum of industry pervaded the government departments and everybody made an effort to recover the ground necessarily lost last week.

last week.

The mercury, crestfallen and abashed, alunk low in the bulb, while outraged humanity gloated in its downfall.

the war closes today with the election. Gov. Thomas G. Jones heads the regular democratic ticket. Reuben F. Kolb is the alliance candidate, who bolted the regular democratic convention and set up an independent ticket.
There is no republican candidate and the negro and republican vote and the negro and republican vote is about evenly divided between the two democratic candidates. A very heavy vote is being polled and all is quiet. Trouble is feared at several places. Indications at noon are that Jones and the regular ticket will win by from 20,000 to 30,000 majority.

20,000 to 30,000 majority.

CHICAGO, Aug I.—A special dispatch from Birmingham, Ala., says: Today is election day. Both Kolb and Jones, candidates for governor, are confident of winning. The Kolb people or bolters will receive the bulk of the negro and republican vote and will probably elect a majority of the legislature on the alliance idea. They threaten to contest every inch if defeated and carry the fight on to November and into the legislature.

Congressman Herbert is the only representative who has dared to meet the alliance opposition and he is not a candidate for re-election. Much Schneider's crime is told of the murdered wife bitterness exists in many sections of the state going the day before she was so cruelly slain and should fatalities occur at the ballot boxes and should fatalities occur at the ballot boxes no one will be surprised.

H. G. Bowman, the Kolb leader, denounced a Jones campaigner from the platform as a lar, and many guns were in the air. Bowman is a dead shot and a South Carolinian. He places his open value on the stand when he speaks. In it he keeps two big revolvers. He has led a bitter campaign against the present administration, charging fraudulent elections, frands in offices and general surrender to corporations. The Jones men believe that pure democracy will win by about 25,000 majority.

All armed and that enough guns are now in the mill to arm every man in the employ of the first. Every precaution will be taken to protect the employes and if necessary force will meet force.

For this reason, it is alleged, they are opposed to having the state convention pominate or indorse a candidate for Senator. Bragg and his friends, it is said, know all this and they have resolved to make a fight in the convention, be-lieving that in case the convention does take action it will nominate Bragg.
